

LYRICS

Oh, the island she lie in the sun
And life be good for everyone,
Greet the morning with the dawn
And sleep at night when the sun is gone.

Well, a man he come down in a boat
And say "To progress we must promote.
Build an airport on the western shore
And fly in the tourists by the score".

FIRST CHORUS:

Organize! Organize!
Alarm clock's ringing, say "It's time to rise!"
Organize! Organize!
Paradise Boy, hush your eyes.

He say some changes must be made
To cater to the tourist trade.
Be lots of work both day and night
See, everything gonna be all right.

FIRST CHORUS

I sing my song all over town
And ask the question all around,
"Why be changing paradise?" —
They answer "Boy, hush your eyes".
— — Paradise Boy, hush your eyes.

Oh, the wind she takes us far away
To a lovely island crystal bay.
Be lots of fruit and fish and more,
And reefer grows wild on the shore.

SECOND CHORUS

Harmonize. Harmonize.
The sun be up, say "it's time to rise".
Harmonize. Harmonize.
Living in my island paradise.

REPEAT FIRST VERSE

REPEAT SECOND CHORUS: ADD A FIFTH LINE,
— — "Paradise Boy, hush your eyes."
